

DR. KWANE STEWART

TOGETHER FOR PETS AWARD

Congratulations to this gracious veterinarian who founded Project Street Vet, which provides free veterinary care to pets of people experiencing homelessness. He has received a $10,000 grant from Blue Buffalo.

WHERE DO YOU WORK?

The majority of my work these days is devoted to my charity, Project Street. I do clinical work in the streets and administrative oversight.

WHY DID YOU BECOME A VETERINARIAN?

I've loved animals and science since I was a child. I also had a strong admiration for our vet. Since I was seven I knew I wanted to help animals.

WHAT'S YOUR PASSION?

My passion is finding our most vulnerable pets and providing care. My work in the streets, serving the unhoused community, has become my calling.

HOBBIES?

I'm active and love being outside. I enjoy cycling, lifting and taking the dogs to the beach. My favorite indoor hobby - Texax hold 'em.

HOW DO YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Providing care to pets that may otherwise never receive it. The mission is simple, find the most needy and deliver free medical services.

WHAT EXCITES YOU ABOUT THE FUTURE?

Expansion! Growing our Street Vet teams to more cities. Currently we're in six major cities. I'd like to double that over the next two years.

Blue Buffalo salutes the veterinarians who go above and beyond to advance the profession and improve the lives of our pets.
